

JELLEN: deer, stag, buck

<https://www.differencebetween.com/difference-between-stag-and-vs-buck/>

The difference between stag and buck has its base in the maturity of the male deer. These terms vary with dialect.

Deer are the mammals that are categorized under the family Cervidae.

Stag is an adult male deer. Stags usually have very large antlers. Antlers are used for defense and compete with other stags for females.

The term buck is general term used for males of most types of deer species and includes mature and immature males. Sometimes it is also used to refer the males of sheep, goat, rabbit and hare.
